MotionTemps.com receives the 2003-2004 Golden Web Award

PARIS, June 2, 2003 - MotionTemps, LLC receives the 2003-2004 Golden Web Award for its web site <http://www.motiontemps.com>. The award honors web sites that excel in web design, content and originality.

This award marks the 30th web award bestowed upon MotionTemps this year. The web site also received the prestigious 2003-2004 American Association of Webmasters Bronze Award back in March.

We are delighted to receive this award because we have worked so hard to create an informative and service-oriented web site for our clients," said Carolyn Moncel, president and founder of MotionTemps, LLC. "Winning this award further inspires us to improve our site so that our visitors always receive an positive experience."

The International Association of Web Masters and Designers (IAWMD), a professional organization founded in 1997, presents the Golden Web Award. Today the organization is supported by over 310,000 members and affiliates in over 145 countries worldwide.
